We discussed for the last time if our project will be a reservation system or an airline management system. We also talked about completing the github with all the necessary documents or reports. We discussed about the different position of workers who would use the application and their functionalities.

Decisions Made:

Our final decision is to build an airline management system. And this system will be used by the administration of the airline. The positions that are going to take part in it are the manager of the company, and the managers of the most important departments in the airline, such as the financial department, the board of the airplane, the workers who work in the gates etc.

Everyone should complete their page at github and should think about how our application will look like since we are going to build a prototype about it.
